it will readily be seen by it that the proceedings of the Commission are becoming of the utmost importance to the public. It would perhaps have been better had the meetings of that body been less of a semi-private character than they have been hitherto, and their greater publicity would have aroused greater general interest in the Exhibition than has yet been attained. It will be a great pity if the Exhibition be 'starved in the interest of economy,' while the expenditure is to exceed nineteen or twenty thousand dollars.

This forenoon, two Chinese bandits, Leung Kang and another, applied to his Honour the Puisne Judge (Mr. Russell) for a warrant of ejection against Young Hok Hoi, a tenant of a house in First Street, near the Western Market, on the ground that Hoi and the other tenants of the house were lepers, of whom we understand there are four. Plaintiff, in reply to his Lordship's question, said he had applied to the Registrar-General's office, but he had been referred to the Court. Plaintiff admitted that he had not given one month's notice. His Lordship said that he could not interfere in the matter; the case was one for the Medical Authorities and Sanitary Board. If defendant refused to remove at the end of the month, plaintiff might then obtain an ejection warrant.

In the Home papers considerable prominence continued to be given to the sale of diseased butcher meat, the vending of milk from cows suffering from disease, and the means which ought to be adopted to prevent this outrage against sanitation. The progress made in the Veterinary Colleges in Great Britain has much to do with this improvement in the public feeling in regard to such subjects. Professor Waller, of the Royal Veterinary College, has been lecturing recently on this question, and he draws a picture of the way in which low-class butchers in large cities at Home purchase cows in the last stages of disease and sell the flesh to sausages-makers, etc.; while many thousands of gallons of milk from such animals are sold for the use of susceptible young children! The practical cure for such villainy is the empowering of inspectors to order the destruction of such animals upon inspection of the animals in the farms and dairies where they are kept, instead of merely holding inspections in the meat markets. We in Hongkong, save in times when the fatal pneumonia comes around, are fairly fortunate; but although the visits of the cattle disease officer on the quays does not exist, does there exist an adequate inspection of the Chinese dairies in this Colony at ordinary times? This is a matter which, though apt to be overlooked when no specific disease is known to be in the neighbourhood, is all-important to European residents here.

A FRIENDLY shooting match between two teams of eight men each of the Police Force took place at Kowloon yesterday afternoon. The match was arranged during the recent shooting competition, and the opposing team were captained respectively by P.O. Sutherland and A.S. Mackay. The ranges were 200, 400 and 500 yards, seven shots at each range, the highest possible being thus 28 at each range. In spite of the fact that a rather strong wind was blowing in fitful gusts during the afternoon across the range, some very good shooting was made, and the score put together by the winning team, P.O. Sutherland's, of 521, one of the best totals ever made by a Police eight at Kowloon. The following were the scores:

Tan Zarzuela Opera Company gave their third performance in the City Hall Theatre last night to a very poor house. The entertainment was in every way as excellent as any of the preceding ones given by the company, although the clever sketches must have been considerably dispirited by the array of empty benches in front of them.

The overture, which was rather long, was capitally executed under the leadership of Maestro Coates. The first piece after the overture was a one-act operalet entitled 'Vieja Redonda,' in which a Spanish gentleman is supposed to visit Manila for the purpose of marrying his cousin, a fair Philippines. The lady, however, has given her heart to another young gentleman without her parent's consent, and she is much troubled by the attentions of her cousin. Before long, however, an earthquake, typhoon and large conflagration occur in rapid succession at Manila, and the young gentleman who came a-wooing is so alarmed that he picks up his traps and returns to Spain, leaving his cousin free to follow the dictates of her heart and marry her first lover. The greater part of the work in the operetta, both vocal and dramatic, falls to Sra. Rodriguez, the Philippine cousin, Sra. Raya and Carrascal. Sra. Raya's vocalization in the operetta was much admired, and the petulant temper of the young lady worried by her cousin's importunate courtship was admirably portrayed. The next piece, the operetta 'La Calandria,' was equally well performed and brought Sra. Suzare on to the stage for the only time during the evening. The performance concluded with 'Pobre Gloria,' which was produced on the opening night of the company, and was repeated last night by request. We hope to see a better house at the next performance of the company on Tuesday next.

The second People's Concert of the season was given in the Temperance Hall yesterday evening, when a large and appreciative audience, consisting mostly of our gallant soldiers and sailors, were present. Though, perhaps, not as successful nor varied an entertainment as some of those given last season, the concert of last night gave genuine pleasure and satisfaction to the audience, whose interest never wavered. The appreciation of their efforts to entertain and amuse, which was manifested last night, ought to encourage the organizers of these gatherings to continue their efforts. Last night's performances were all pretty well known to the Temperance Hall audiences, and were greeted as old favourites should be.

Messrs Taylor and Murch renewed their acquaintance with the patrons of these concerts by performing a very pleasing selection on the bells in a very clever manner. The other musical performers were the two Misses Kennedy Edwards, who played the accompaniment with taste and proficiency and also took part in a piano-forte duet. Among the singers Mr. Swales (the Chairman) and Mr. Scott (the Secretary) were perhaps the most successful, both being encored. Mr. Anderson was also encored, and in reply gave a short recitation. Mr. C. H. A. had, who sang at many of the concerts, and who goes home in the Orontes, bade his many friends in the audience farewell from the stage. Probably the most admired item in the programme was the clog-dancing of Mr. Jas. Mason, one of the old battery of Royal Artillery leaving here in the Orontes for Trincomalee. He is one of the cleverest amateur clog-dancers we have ever seen. The prizes in the Singing Competition were won by Privates Groves and Wells, of the Northamptonshire Regiment. The following is the programme as printed, the order given below was somewhat different from :-

1—OPENING..... Impresario, Piano and Violin. Miss Edith Kennedy and Mr. J. D. Scott.

On the 16th December there was kindled for the first time, the light in the new lighthouse built on the Fourth Cape of Java to replace that destroyed in the Krakatau outbreak.

A SPECIAL telegram from the Hague has been received at Batavia announcing that the Second Chamber of the States General has granted an amount of ten thousand guilders as subsidy for the expedition to New Guinea organized by the Netherlands Geographical Society.

The Straits Times translates the following from a Deli paper :—The many Europeans who, of late, have settled down in the coast states will certainly rejoice at hearing that it is the intention of the Ocean Steam Ship Company to bring them into direct and regular communication with Penang via Deli. The steamer Will o' the Wisp has been bought by the said Company for that purpose, and will, shortly, ply once every ten days between Penang, Deli, Beaufort, Padang, Batu Bahru, Asahan and Bago. It need be no邦邦 and Paquerec, will also be ports of call. Not only will communication between Penang and Deli be somewhat changed for the better thereby, but it will prove a benefit to many persons who object to venture out at sea in steam launches during bad weather.

A LETTER from a gentleman named Von Horn residing in Deli, giving an account of an interesting tiger adventure there, has recently been made public in a German newspaper and reprinted in the Deli Journal of the 12th December, of which the following is a translation :—

The photograph which I send you is of the largest royal tiger I have shot in the East. It was a so-called man-eater which had killed many human beings, and was the terror of the whole neighbourhood. After I had lain in wait for it on several times with difficulty from my finding hardly any one willing to accompany me, so great was the fear of this monster, I at length, on the night of the 15th June, 10 minutes after midnight had a splendid shot at it by sending a bullet through its heart as it was springing towards me. Often as I have hunted tigers, I shall never forget that a tiger, under a small attack, roared at me with a glistening lantern, while I kept watch a little further off behind the dog. Suddenly, without the will of any man, the tiger gave forth a dismal howl. Then I saw something like an enormous head with open mouth bursting through the air. It was a fearful moment to behold the sight under the light of a lantern, like that of a blood-thirsty shooting suddenly out of a furnace. Accustomed as I was to quiet firing when shooting in the dark jungle, my finger followed instinctively the eye, and by a shot fired with lightning-like rapidity I hit the tiger's right eye when it had sprung just half way before reaching the dog. In the next moment a cloud of dust arose, then a death-like stillness. I afterwards found it lying 120 feet from my ambush. It had made a death bound of 40 feet, and then in its dying agony had rooted up the ground for 60 feet around. On opening it I found the bullet lying wholly flattened in the middle of the heart, yet it could make the tremendous b hind, but luckily backwards. Had it been otherwise I could very likely have been now alive and writing this letter. This monster was 12 feet 2 inches long, and is the biggest I have ever seen.

UNDER the heading 'A Rhyme for the Time,' a Home contemporary has the following :—

'Where art thou going to, my pretty maid?'
'I'll be your escort, my pretty maid.'
'I need no escort, you are mine.'
'I'll be your escort, for me my pretty maid.'
'Tell me your policy, Sir,' she said.
'Conceal and cover, my pretty maid.'
'Yet they are the cheapest, my pretty maid.'
'Not in the long run, Sir,' she said.
'I'll be your escort, for me my pretty maid.'
'I'll let the colours go to the fence.'
'I'll trudge to Brest and worry the Port.'
'I'll be your escort, for me my pretty maid.'
'I'll be your escort when a hero calls.'
And I'll be when he likes to the grand balls.
How will the world end, my pretty maid?'
'Never mind foreign affairs, Sir.'
'I'll give you a coat and tail, and the stars will be Brown's.
And the butter will buy you a couple of gown.
What do you say to that, pretty maid?'
'Then I won't be your escort, my pretty maid.'
'Nobody asked you, Sir,' she said.

COLONIAL AND INDIAN EXHIBITION.

The following particulars have been furnished to us by Mr. H. E. Weddhouse of the meeting of the Exhibition Commission held at the City Hall on the afternoon of the 12th January.

There were present :—The Hon. W. Keats (Chairman); The Hon. F. Stewart; The Hon. E. L. O'Malley; The Hon. J. M. Price; The Hon. F. D. Sesson; The Hon. Wong Shing; Commodore Morant, R.N.; Messrs Coxon, Coughtrie, Crawford, Gillies, Ho Kai, Hopkins, and H. Weddhouse (Honorary Secretary).

At the request of the Chairman, the Honorary Secretary made a statement of the present condition of affairs and of all that had taken place in connection with the exhibition. His statement was to the effect that including the expenses incurred up to the date of meeting, in which were comprehended freight, insurance, packing and all charges, there had been expended in various matters in all a sum estimated at about five thousand five hundred dollars.

The Honorary Secretary added that some months ago a circular had been sent round stating that it was considered necessary in order that at the Colonial and Indian Exhibition to be held in London next year the Colony may be in a position to send articles to the exhibition and to be satisfactorily represented in its exhibits, to have a sum of money guaranteed to meet the costs of shipping, insurance, carriage, &c., and other expenses, and requiring members of the community in the Colony to state the amounts for which they are prepared to pledge themselves. This is an appeal for contributions to be made to the extent of fifteen thousand six hundred dollars, which, in addition to the Government grant of one hundred pounds sterling, creates a working basis of about nineteen thousand dollars, the whole of which and more would probably have to be expended before the exhibition was concluded, and that as it was, the exhibition was in danger of being starved in the interests of economy.

The meeting agreed that the expenses must necessarily be heavy, and the Chairman read a letter which he had written to the Colonial Government asking for a vote of three thousand pounds sterling, and pointing out that the exhibition was set at foot at the instance of the home authorities through the local government, and that it was not reasonable that private individuals or firms should be called upon to defray the expenditure. The reply from the local government was also read, enquiring in what way it was estimated that so large a sum would be required. The meeting fully concurred in the chairman's view, and it was agreed that an estimate of the expenditure likely to be required be furnished for the information of the local government.

Meanwhile it was determined that the preparations be pushed on with alacrity, and various articles were enumerated which it was considered advisable should be procured. It was also agreed that, in view of the difficulty of getting together a large body like the commission, the meeting would endorse all expenditure agreed to by the chairman in conjunction with the Hon. Secretary, and it was further decided that it was advisable that some Chinese artisans should be sent home to work in the Hongkong Court, the industries specified being ornamental bamboo work, lantern making, and ratten.

A telegraphic correspondence between the Honorary Secretary, Mr. H. E. Weddhouse, and the Secretary to the Royal Commission, Sir Philip Crifford Owen, regarding the limits of selection within which the Hongkong Exhibits could be comprised, was read, the result being that an article, not so long as it forms a portion of the Colony, is allowed to be exhibited.

No other business took place beyond that the Honorary Secretary informed the meeting that subsequent to the decision of the Commission to send him home to watch after the interests of the Hongkong Court, he had been received that Sir Philip had appointed Messrs. H. S. King & Co., receiving agents, and he enquired whether under the circumstances the Commission still considered it necessary that he should go.

The meeting considered that the appointment of Messrs. H. S. King & Co. in no way affected their previous resolution. A vote of thanks to the chairman terminated the proceedings.

SUPREME COURT.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.
(Before His Honour J. Russell, Puisne Judge.)

Friday, Jan. 15.

ERNEST DE SOUZA, H. ST. CLAIR OSBREKE,

v. THOMAS MARSHALL & YOUNG AYING.—
Plaintiff, an Indian watchman, claimed the above amount as twelve days' wages from the defendant, who is master of the Hongkong Hotel. Defendant not appearing when the case was called, judgment was given for plaintiff by default.

THOMAS MARSHALL & YOUNG AYING.—
Plaintiff, who resides at the Temperance

Hall, claimed the sum of $5 from the defendant as the value of a pair of trousers which were destroyed by the axle of a cart, which was under the charge of some of the defendant's workmen in Queen's Road last Sunday afternoon. Plaintiff alleges that while he was walking along Queen's Road West in an Easterly direction he met the trolley, which was loaded with cases of matches, and the men in charge caused the trolley to pass so close to him that the axle caught the side of his trousers, and tore one leg open from top to bottom, rendering them perfectly useless for wear. The trousers were produced in Court.

Plaintiff took one of the men to the Police Station, and he was there advised to sue in the Summary Court. He paid £1.30 for his passage to England. Defendant's workmen remitted the plaintiff as drunk at the time and that the damage was done through his own fault. The case was remanded until to-morrow for further evidence.

LI PIER T. CAPTAIN GRANT.—
Plaintiff is a portrait painter, and defendant is a master of the British barque George, now in harbour, and the claim was for payment of portraits of Captain Grant himself and of Mrs. Grant's mother and brother, from photographs. An agreement had been come to that if the portraits were not satisfactory the plaintiff was to take them back. They were considered unsatisfactory by defendant and his wife, and when plaintiff presented them on board ship they were rejected. Plaintiff, however, secretly left them behind in the cabin of the ship and then took out a summons. The pictures were produced in Court, and Captain Grant and his wife pointed out to his Lordship what they considered the defects. Captain Grant said he would not have the portrait of himself at any price, but he was willing to take the other two if they were altered in accordance with his wishes. Plaintiff, who had painted a portrait of the George which was accepted, was given a week to try and amend the portraits. If he failed to do so to the satisfaction of defendant, then judgment would go against him.

CHUN ASU, son of deceased.—
Plaintiff is a stoker in Queen's Road Central, and was deceased alive about noon on the 3rd inst. in his boat at Shau-ki-wan. She did not have any conversation with her son, but placed her in his boat. She knew deceased had a pair of jadestone bangles; these produced were the ones; she knew them by one of them being cracked. She remembered going to the Kishing pawnshop on the 7th inst., with the last witness and at once identified the bangles as those belonging to her mother-in-law. She did not know the prisoner.

FUNG AMUI, wife of Li Sung Tai, had been the body of deceased at the Mortuary and identified it as that of her mother. She last saw her alive over ten days before her death. Did not know that her mother had a quarrel with any one. She knew she had four gold finger rings, one pair of gold earrings and one pair of jadestone bangles. She identified the bangles produced as those worn by her mother. She knew the bangles well as they originally belonged to her and she gave them to her mother. One of the bangles had been cracked. She could also identify some of the clothing as belonging to her mother.

LEI SAP NG, daughter-in-law of deceased, last deceased alive about noon on the 3rd inst. in her boat at Shau-ki-wan. She did not have any conversation with her son, but placed her in his boat. She knew deceased had a pair of jadestone bangles; these produced were the ones; she knew them by one of them being cracked. She remembered going to the Kishing pawnshop on the 7th inst., with the last witness and at once identified the bangles as those belonging to her mother-in-law.

CHUN ASU, son of deceased, said he had not seen his mother alive for nearly two months, as she was employed as a cook or on board ship. He could identify the bangles belonging to his mother. (Witness here picked out the bangles from amongst a number of others.)

THE CHINA REVIEW.

PUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY,
TENTH YEAR.

THIS Review, which was intended to meet the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of 'Notes and Queris on China and Japan,' has reached its Thirteenth Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are uppermost in the minds of students of the Far East and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It includes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology,
Geography, History, Literature,
Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities
and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new departure has been made, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction,
the Magazine would be made more generally useful.

The Review department receives special attention, and endeavours are made to present a careful and concise record of Literature on China, etc., and to give critiques embodying sketches of the most recent works on such topics. Authors and Publishers are requested to forward works to 'Editor, China Review, care of China
Mail Office.'

The Notes and Queris are still continued and form an important means of obtaining true and diffusing among students knowledge on obscure points.

The Correspondents' column also affords
further and greater facilities for the interchange of views and discussion of various topics.

Original contributions in Chinese, Latin,
or any of the Modern Languages are received. The papers are contributed by the members of the various Consular, the Imperial Customs, and Hongkong Services, and also by the Missionary bodies amongst whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is assiduously cultivated. Amongst the regular contributors are Drs. Chalmers, Fate, Bretheschneider, Hirth, and Hesse, Professor Legge, and Messrs. Ballou, Wattles, Stent, Phillips, MacIntyre, Groot, Jameson,
Faber, Kopack, Parker, Playfair,
Giles, and Piton—all well-known names,
indicative of sound scholarship and thorough mastery of their subject.

The Subscription is fixed at $6.50 per annum, postage included—payable in advance.

Orders for binding volumes will be promptly attended to; Address, 'Manager,
China Mail Office.'

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

'All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising paper.—Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.).'

'The China Review'  has an excellent table of contents.—'Celestial Empire.'

'The publication always contains subjects of interest to sojourners in the Far East and the present issue will hold favourable if not advantageous comparison, with preceding numbers.—'Celestial Empire.'

'This number contains several articles of interest and value.—'North-China Herald.'

'The China Review' for September-October fully maintains the high standard of excellence which characterizes that publication, and altogether forms a very interesting and readable number. Meterologists will find an interesting and valuable contribution by Dr. Fritsch on "The Amount of Precipitation (Rain and Snow) of Peking," showing the results of observations made at the Imperial Russian Observatory at Peking, from 1841 to 1880. "Notes on the Dutch Occupation of Formosa," by Mr. Geo. Phillips, contains some interesting information, although much of it is second-hand. The Notices of New Books include a most generous and appreciative review of "The Divine Classic of Nan-Pin," and the Notes and Queries
are as usual very interesting.—'North-China Herald.'

'A substantial and reliable Review which all students of China and the Chinese would do well to consult.—'Chronicle.'

'The November-December number of the China Review contains less variety than usual, but the few articles are very interesting. The opening paper by Mr. Herbert
A. Giles on "The New Testament in Chinese" treats of a question that must necessarily be of great importance in the eyes of all missionaries.'

Mr. E. H. Parker's "Short Journeys in Szechuan"
